

'Lilli Ann' Suits Featured at 'Autumn Revue' of Fashions

The Basic Dress

The "Y" Wives presented their "Autumn Revue" of fashions Friday at the YWCA, showing a revue of fall sportswear and after five fashions, from the Gay shop and Guy's & Dolls Children's shop.

The feature of the show was definitely the finale, when all the models and the commentator presented the "Lilli Ann" look in suits. Each one looked like a dream of elegance that only a "Lilli Ann" could create.

Straight sheaths, high-waisted belt lines, with the Empire effect.

These suits are made from imported fabrics that have a luscious softness of their own, whereby you just know their look by a glance.

Phyllis Kelley served as commentator for the show.

Models were: Peggy Randall, Ruth Swanson, Lois Bowen, Peggy Partsch, Ann Rutkosky and Darlyn Hoffman. Children's models were: Judy Collins and Sharron Jones.

Refreshments served consisted of home baked goodies by the "Y" Wives.

PTA Group To Discuss Mental Health

The Meadow Park PTA will have as its topic for the October meeting, a discussion on "Mental Health."

Meadow park held its first regular PTA meeting at the school. The meeting was opened by the President, Mrs. J. T. Anagnost.

Scout troop No. 996 handled the flag ceremony. Mrs. William Taylor introduced the speakers. Van Bellehem of the Torrance Recreation department was the principal speaker for the evening. Giving us an insight to the functions of the dept. Dr. Hull of the board of education spoke to us on the need of schools, and on the coming election and urged us to all get out and vote "Yes" on the school issue.

The budget was read and explained to us by Stanley LeBon, and was passed. The Safety Chairman, Mrs. Russell Bardick gave us a report on the progress of the signal at 230th, the signal should be started at a real early date, as the bids are all in, according to the A. L. Hutchingson's office.

The paving of 230th will take a little time as it has to be graded before any work can be started on it. This work was passed on to Mrs. R. Bardick from R. L. Perkins of the street department.

A safety assembly was held at the school, at which time two films were shown "Safety to and from school" and "You and your bicycle" with one of the officers from the Torrance police department as the speaker.

Mrs. R. M. Wood outlined her plans for the library project, and asked everyone to look around their homes for books that might be used, as a room by room drive will be made. The able voices of the teachers rounded out the evening, with there tales of woes given in song, to the tune of "Sixteen Tons". The group under the direction of Mrs. K. M. Grogan. Refreshments for the evening were handled by Mrs. E. W. Dungey.
